2024-2029

- .1. Final Compromises
- .2. 2025 report on Türkiye version 31 March 2025

COMP 1

Falling, if adopted: 216, 217, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225 and 219

Covering: AM 219 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 220 (Rapporteur), AM 222 (Gead)

Commitment to EU accession

1. Reaffirms its appreciation for the majority of the Turkish people's (AM 219, 220) long-standing aspirations regarding accession to the European Union and maintaining Türkiye's candidate status (AM 219), despite the persistent lack of progress and political will (AM 222); acknowledges the fatigue that, as a consequence, keeps mounting among interlocutors on both sides of the process; (AM 220); however, underscores that any development in the accession process requires tangible progress in upholding the rule of law and democratic processes and believes that, in the absence of such progress, Türkiye's EU accession process cannot be resumed; (AM 219)

COMP 2

Falling, if adopted: 227, 228, 229, 230, 231 and 232

Covering: AM 228 (Gead et al), AM 229 (Mavrides), AM 230 (Rapporteur), AM 231 (Furlas et al.)

2. Stresses the merit-based, (AM 230) normative, non-transactional nature of the EU accession process, which is contingent on fulfilling the Copenhagen criteria and is not bound by any deadline; stresses that this fulfilment requires stable institutions that guarantee democracy, the rule of law, human rights, respect for and the protection of minorities, good neighbourly relations, recognition of all Member States, respect for international law and alignment with the EU's Common Foreign and Security Policy; (AM 228, 229, 230, 231)

COMP 3

Falling, if adopted: 234, 235 and 236

Covering: AM 234 (Gadi), AM 235 (Rapporteur), AM 236 (Tynkkynen)

3. Notes with regret that despite the Turkish Government's repeated statements recommitting to the goal of EU membership, persistent and (AM 234) serious concerns raised in its previous reports (AM 235) regarding shortcomings affecting the accession process remain unaddressed (AM 234), including the continued undermining of human rights and civil society space (AM 236), and that even further serious backsliding in rule of law and deteriorating fundamental rights can be documented in the last period in continuation of the trend that has pushed the country towards an authoritarian model over the past decade (AM 235); considers this continued inaction as a clear indication of the Turkish Government's lack of genuine political will for reforms (AM 234) nor for reviving the accession process;

COMP 4

Falling, if adopted: 239, 240, 241, 242 and 243

Covering: AM 239 (Aaltola), AM 240 (Rapporteur), AM 241 (Mavrides), AM 243 (Wiseler-Lima),

4. Invites the Turkish government to move from rhetoric to action and, instead of lamenting the length of time Türkiye's has been kept waiting at the EU's doors, to demonstrate through concrete and well-known measures, its genuine willingness (AM 240) to address the persistent shortcomings in the areas of the rule of law, human rights, democratic standards, freedom of the press and other (AM 243) fundamental freedoms, as well as with regard to the respect of good neighbourly relations and international law (AM 241); stresses in particular, among other urgent measures, the need to strengthen the independence of the judiciary, safeguard freedom of expression, protect journalists and the rights of local authorities, and put an end to politically motivated trials; (AM 239)

COMP 5

Falling, if adopted: 244, 245, 246, 247, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261 and 248

Covering: AM 244 (Furlas et al.), AM 245(Azmani et al.), AM 246 (Rapporteur), AM 247 (Gomart), AM 249 (Mavrides), AM 254 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 260 (Rapporteur), AM 261 (Georgiou et al),

5. Reiterates, nevertheless, that, while the accession process has been at a standstill since 2018, Türkiye remains a country of strategic relevance (AM 249) and NATO ally and a country with which the EU has multi-layered (AM 246) relations spreading from the areas of trade, economy and migration management (AM 254) to foreign and security policy; underlines Türkiye's importance for the regional security framework and stability, as well as for the security of Ukraine in the face of Russia's aggression (AM 245); stresses, however, that growing foreign policy divergences are hardly compatible with European security and defence architecture (AM 247) firmly supports the development of a cooperative and mutually beneficial relationship with Türkiye in every field of common interest in a phased, proportionate and reversible manner, in line with the April 2024 EUCO Conclusions and bound by and aimed at promoting international law; (AM 244, AM 246, AM 261)
- 5a. Expresses its hope for a change of course in the Turkish Government's engagement towards the fundamental issues at the core of the accession process to the EU which would allow to develop the EU-Türkiye relationship towards a closer partnership in the perspective of a possible future reopening of the accession process; (AM 260)

Falling, if adopted: 263, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270 and 294

Covering: AM 265 (Rapporteur), AM 266 (Prebilic), AM 294 (Azmani et al.)

6. Is deeply concerned by the weak voice and scarce statements (AM 265) of other EU institutions, and many EU Member States, in the face of the erosion of the rule of law in Türkiye; underlines that the failure by high-level EU officials to consistently and publicly address the ongoing democratic backsliding -particularly during official visits to the country- risks further alienating Turkish civil society and undermining the Union's image and credibility, including among the most pro-EU Turkish segments of society, in a manner that will take long time to remedy; calls on the EU ambassador and the ambassadors of EU Member States in Türkiye to resume the visits of prominent imprisoned figures, attend relevant trials, publicly oppose the continued targeting of political parties and members of the opposition and dissenting voices, (AM 266) and systematically raise concerns with Turkish authorities in this regard, while maintaining close engagement with civil society; (AM 294)

COMP 7

Falling, if adopted: 274, 275, 276, 277 and 335

Covering: AM 274 (Rapporteur); AM 275 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 276 (Mavrides), AM 335 (Prebilic)

The core of the accession process: democracy, the rule of law and fundamental rights

7. Expresses grave concern at the continuing serious erosion of the rule of law and the lack of (AM 276) judicial independence in Türkiye, in the framework of a deeply entrenched authoritarian interpretation of the presidential system; deplores the crackdown and arbitrary legal proceedings (AM 335) that are applied by the Turkish judiciary on politicians, journalists, lawyers, activists, artists and anyone who dares to raise a critical voice; further deplores the shrinking space for media freedom, civic activity and the right to assembly (AM 335) in the country and calls on the government to reverse this trend before it is too late (AM 274); calls for the adoption of structural measures allowing the significant improvement of judicial independence; (AM 275);

COMP 8

Falling, if adopted: 281, 282, 284, 285, 286, 287, 306 and 331

Covering: AM 281 (Rapporteur), AM 282 (Tynkkynen), AM 284 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 285 (Prebilic), AM 286 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 287 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 306 (Georgiou et al), AM 331 (Montero et al)

8. Deplores the lack of impartiality and independence (AM 284) and the extensive use of double standards in the judiciary, both by prosecutors and judges, particularly relating to cases on insulting officials or corruption charges; notes that on the contrary government supporters are not treated in the same way; (AM 282) further deplores the unlawful practice of removal and arbitrary displacement of judges related to political cases significantly affecting the impartiality of the process; (AM 281, AM 287) calls on Turkish judiciary to put an end to the use, particularly recurrent in high-profile cases, of evidence from secret witnesses, which are accepted without verification in what constitutes a clear violation of the right to a fair trial and contrary to the jurisprudence of the ECtHR; (AM 281) highlights that this abusive use of legal proceedings leads to grave breaches of the legal assumption of innocence in contravention of international legal responsibilities and Turkish domestic law (AM 285, 306, 331); is alarmed by reports of a severe deterioration in the quality of judicial proceedings in Türkiye, particularly observed in the low quality of the indictments, in breach of both domestic and international legal standards, (AM 281, AM 286); points to the Council of Judges and Prosecutors (HSK) and its evident lack of independence from the Government (AM 281) in the selection, recruitment and promotion of judges and prosecutors (AM 287) as a key factor enabling the deliberate weaponization of the judiciary to suppress dissent (AM 281);

Falling, if adopted: 288, 289, 290, 262, 278, 280, 291, 299, 302, 313, 316, 385, 576 and 560

Covering: AM 262 (Rapporteur), AM 278 (Azmani et al.); AM 280 (Azmani et al.); AM 288 (Rapporteur), AM 289 (Maniatis et al), AM 290 (Mavrides et al), AM 291 (Fourlas et al.), AM 299 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 302 (Prebilic), AM 313 (Sjostedt), AM 316 (Wiseler-Lima), AM 385 (Geadı et al), AM 576 (Fourlas et al.)

9. Notes with regret that even though EU enlargement policy is currently regaining new momentum, Türkiye is missing this window of opportunity due to lack of democratic reforms; further notes that a first step to seize this opportunity would be to abide by the rulings of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) and the Constitutional Court of Türkiye; (AM 288, AM 291) continues to be appalled by the Turkish authorities', in particular the Turkish judiciary's, continuous disregard for and failure to apply landmark Constitutional Court and ECtHR rulings, which undermines legal certainty and perpetuates systemic violations; (AM 278, AM 280, AM 288) takes note with regret of the prolonged infringement proceedings by the Council of Europe's Committee of Ministers which have resulted in a failure to act effectively to enforce ECtHR judgments and ensure compliance with them; calls on the Commission and the Member States to use all diplomatic channels to urge Türkiye to implement relevant ECtHR rulings and to consider applying relevant funding conditionality in relation to compliance with ECtHR rulings; (AM 278) condemns in its strongest terms Turkish authorities' sustained and deliberate decision to illegally keep in jail on political grounds prominent figures such as former HDP party co-chairs Selahattin Demirtaş and Figen Yüksekdağ -for more than 9 years- and human rights defender Osman Kavala -for more than 8 years-, despite the relevant ECtHR rulings; calls for their immediate and unconditional release; is appalled to see that, instead of being immediately freed, Selahattin Demirtaş has received on 6 January 2026 an additional sentence of more than 1 year prison on a different case based on speeches delivered back in 2015, despite the now three landmark rulings by the ECtHR calling for his release, the last of which was made final on 3 November 2025; considers these actions a grave abuse of power and a flagrant contempt for the rule of law (AM 278, 288, 291, 299, 302, 313, 316); urges Türkiye once again to fully implement all judgments of the ECtHR in line with Article 46 of the ECHR and in line with the unconditional obligations derived from Article 90 of the Turkish constitution, including the Grand Chamber's 2023 ruling in Yüksel Yalçınkaya v. Türkiye and related cases; takes note of the ECtHR decision not to award compensation or cover legal costs in the thousands of follow-up cases, which could be potentially unfair to applicants and inconsistent with prior practice of the court (AM 278, AM 288, AM 291); calls on Türkiye to also respect judgements related to missing persons and properties in Cyprus, including the ECtHR decision of 24 January 2008 in the case of the murders of Tassos Isaak and Solomos Solomou; (AM 290, AM 576) calls on the Turkish authorities to execute the international arrest warrants issued against the suspects in these murders and to surrender these individuals to the Republic of Cyprus; (AM 385)

Falling, if adopted: 293, 295, 296, 297, 336 and 341

Covering: AM 293 (Rapporteur), AM 294 (Azmani et al), AM 295 (Prebilib), AM 299 (Wiseler-Lima)

10. Is deeply concerned by the growing constitutional crisis in Türkiye caused by the refusal of ordinary courts to comply with binding Constitutional Court judgments or other decisions of relevant higher judicial instances, which constitutes a clear rupture of the legal order; condemns the continued detention of Gezi case defendant Can Atalay despite two equally binding decisions of Constitutional Court and strongly denounces the unlawful stripping of his parliamentary mandate in open defiance of constitutional guarantees and the democratic will of the electorate; condemns the decision of the Istanbul 13th High Criminal Court to reject the Constitutional Court's order for a retrial in the case of Tayfun Kahraman, also a Gezi case defendant and whose health has seriously deteriorated recently, denying the requests to halt the execution of the sentence and to release him; is appalled by the recent conviction of Ayşe Barım, a well-known talent manager, for alleged involvement in the Gezi Park protest 13 years ago despite any evidence of wrongdoing; further regrets that the Ankara Regional Administrative Court's 13th Administrative Chamber has resisted the Council of State's landmark decision on the case of Hafize Öztürk Türkmen -the first related to one of the "Peace Academics"- and by which he should have been reinstated in his university position (AM 293, 295); calls for the immediate and unconditional release of all individuals arbitrarily detained and the dropping of charges against those prosecuted solely for exercising their fundamental rights (AM 294) and to cease the misuse of counterterrorism and judicial mechanisms to silence dissent (AM 299);

COMP 11

Falling, if adopted: 298, 300, 301, 303, 375 and 390

Covering: AM 298 (Rapporteur), AM 300 (Azmani et al.), AM 303 (Tynkkynen), AM 375 (Tynkkynen), AM 390 (Azmani et al.)

11. Deplores the continued targeting of political parties and members of the opposition, who continue to suffer increasing pressure, particularly severe in the last period with regard to the main opposition party CHP (AM 298); reiterates its strong condemnation of the continued detention and the removal from office of the Mayor of the Istanbul Metropolitan Municipality, Ekrem İmamoğlu of the Republican People's Party (CHP), in what has become a massive political case affecting more than 400 defendants including district mayors and officials, 105 of which are currently in pre-trial detention; welcomes the recent visits to Türkiye of EU mayors and city representatives as well as the European Committee of the Regions showing their solidarity and support ; echoes their call for the respect of municipal freedoms; (AM 300) is deeply concerned by the acceptance of the nearly 4,000-page indictment, prepared under the responsibility of the notorious former İstanbul Chief Public Prosecutor Akin Gürlek, in which İmamoğlu is accused of leading a vast criminal network and committing 142 offenses that could result in a sentence of up to 2,430 years in prison; welcomes the significant decision of the ECtHR to accept İmamoğlu's application concerning alleged unlawful detention under its "priority case" procedure; condemns the longstanding targeting of Ekrem İmamoğlu, current CHP's presidential candidate, through a maze of dozens of investigations, overlapping judicial cases and arbitrary administrative decisions, including another recent indictment on "political espionage" and the unlawful and politically-motivated cancellation of his university diploma, a requisite for his eligibility to be President; deplores the Istanbul 5th Administrative Court's decision on 23 January 2026 to reject İmamoğlu's request to overturn the revocation decision; is deeply concerned by the staggering number of procedures filed at the GNAT seeking the lifting of the parliamentary immunity of current MPs, which overwhelmingly affect members of opposition parties (AM 298); emphasises that these actions undermine the prospect for a stronger more comprehensive EU-Türkiye partnership and overall improved relations; (AM 301) calls on all political actors in Türkiye to engage seriously in strengthening the GNAT as a pluralist chamber, addressing the challenges facing Turkish society, and laying the foundations for a democratic future; (AM 390)

Falling, if adopted: 305, 307, 308, 309, 310 and 311

Covering: AM 305 (Rapporteur), AM 307 (Prebilič), AM 308 (Geadı et al.),

12. Is gravely concerned by the further deterioration of local democracy in Türkiye; strongly condemns the dismissals and arrests of 28 elected mayors from opposition parties and dozens of local officials, as well as the replacement of 11 mayors with trustees appointed by the government, often in connection with the overly broad and arbitrary application of Türkiye's anti-terror legislation (AM 308) or unsubstantiated corruption allegations; reiterates its consideration of this long-standing practice of appointing trustees as a blatant attack on the most basic principles of local democracy; urges the Turkish authorities to immediately cease and reverse repression of opposition municipalities - including through the selective seizure of financial assets- and to respect the rights of voters to elect their chosen representatives in line with the recommendations of the Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of the Council of Europe and the Venice Commission (AM 305); highlights that the dismantling of local democracy significantly weakens state capacity, notably the provision of services, crisis response (earthquakes) and social services for refugees and vulnerable groups and therefore threatens human security; (AM 307)

COMP 12A

Falling, if adopted: 283 and 312

Covering: AM 283 (Prebilič), AM 312 (Rapporteur)

12a. Condemns the harassment and attacks on defence lawyers on account of their professional activities, as illustrated by the ongoing imprisonment of Mehmet Pehlivan -Ekrem İmamoğlu’s lawyer- or the recent conviction to 11 years in jail of Ramazan Demir -Selahattin Demirtaş’s lawyer-; considers these and other actions against lawyers as an unacceptable interference with the right to defense and the legal profession, which is one of the fundamental elements of a functioning judiciary and the rule of law; welcomes the 26th Istanbul Heavy Penal Court’s acquittal of the president and 10 members of the executive board of the Istanbul Bar Association of terrorism-related charges but stresses that this criminal case should not have been started in the first place; calls on Turkish authorities to implement safeguards for the independence, safety and autonomy of lawyers and to ensure that lawyers and their professional bodies are not subjected to prosecution or other improper pressure solely for carrying out their lawful functions (AM 312), ensuring the rights of legal professionals in line with Council of Europe standards (AM 283);

Falling, if adopted: 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 334, 338, 342 and 314

Covering: AM 314 (Zovko); AM 322 (Rapporteur); AM 323 (Wiseler-Lima); AM 324 (Sjöstedt); AM 325 (Azmani et al), AM 326 (Prebilič), AM 327 (Tynkkynen), AM 328 (Rapporteur); AM 329 (Wiseler-Lima); AM 334 (Gaedi et al.); AM 335 (Prebilič); AM 338 (Rapporteur); AM 342 (Rapporteur)

13. *Continues to deplore the ongoing and intensifying (AM 326) prosecution, censorship and harassment of journalists and independent media, denying them the freedom to carry out their professional duties and inform the public, which is essential to a functioning democratic society; is deeply worried by reports indicating that up to 90% of the national media are now pro-government or under government control; deeply regrets in this view the seizure by the Turkish government of TELE1, one of the few remaining critical broadcaster now under trustee control, as a deliberate attack on media freedom; condemns the harassment of independent journalists who in 2025 have suffered an increased number of arrests and detentions mainly under accusations of “membership of a terrorist organization”, “insulting the President” or the alleged violation of the law on Assemblies and Demonstrations; follows with great concern the cases of Deutsche Welle reporter Alican Uludağ -recently detained by thirty police officers in front of his family and later arrested over social media posts made more than one year ago-, TELE1 editor-in-chief Merdan Yanardağ -currently imprisoned over “espionage” allegations-, Medyascope reporter Furkan Karabay -recurrently arrested over the last three years and recently put under house arrest for two months-, TV anchor Sedef Kabaş -facing now another judicial case for her social media posts-, veteran journalist Fatih Altayli -recently released pending his appeal to a sentence of more than 4 years of jail on ludicrous charges of physically threatening the President- (AM 322), BirGün reporter İsmail Arı -arrested recently on alleged charges of “disinformation” for his investigative work-, and Swedish journalist Joakim Medin (AM 324), among others (AM 322); calls for the immediate and unconditional release of all journalists unjustly detained (AM 329); strongly deplores the instrumentalisation of the Radio and Television Supreme Council (RTÜK), which should be independent, to further stifle independent media through financial and broadcasting sanctions, which are overwhelmingly imposed on critical outlets; deplores the multiple and systematic actions against the freedom of expression online, including recurrent restrictions on internet access, the bandwidth throttling, broadcast bans, blocking of social network accounts websites and thousands of news stories (AM 322), alongside content removal requests meant to silence journalists and ordinary citizens (AM 334), frequently on the grounds of “national security and public order” (AM 322, AM 323); condemns the instrumentalization of legal provisions by the Turkish authorities to curtail and exert targeted pressure on journalists, calls on the Turkish authorities to immediately ensure the protection of freedom of expression and media freedom and to guarantee that no individual is deprived of liberty solely for the peaceful exercise of their fundamental rights, in line with international human rights obligations; (AM 323)

13a. Remains concerned about bans on assemblies -frequently under unsubstantiated grounds- and the excessive use of force against peaceful demonstrators; stresses that these practices run against the guarantees to the right to peaceful assembly under Article 34 of the Turkish Constitution and continue to fall short of international human rights standards; is especially concerned about the impact that these violations on individual freedoms have on the student movement and about how a wide range of repressive actions -including arbitrary detentions, disciplinary investigations, scholarship cuts, evictions from dormitories, media censorship and physical violence- appears to be used with an aim at limiting the youth's presence in the public sphere; regrets the large numbers of individuals who were detained or subjected to judicial control measures due to their (AM 328) membership in civil society organisations and Bar Associations (AM 335), or participation in demonstrations, particularly those held after the arrest and detention of Istanbul mayor Ekrem İmamoğlu, and protests related to the 1st of May, women's and LGBTI+'s rights; acknowledges some positive steps, including some acquittal decisions, but urges Turkish authorities to uphold the freedom of assembly and protest without undue restrictions (AM 328);

13b. Expresses growing concern on how Turkish authorities are instilling in all remits of the society a regressive moral agenda based on a religious approach, which stands in marked contrast to the secular foundations of the Republic of Türkiye as enshrined in its Constitution; notes that this growing shift promoted by the ruling coalition can be observed in legislation, political discourse, education, cultural life and media, raising serious questions about the erosion of secularism, pluralism and fundamental freedoms; is concerned by the Turkish government's decision to file a lawsuit against the 168 signatories, including journalists, artists and academics, of the so-called “We Defend Secularism Together” declaration (AM 338);

13c. Remains deeply concerned about the state of academic freedom and institutional independence, as illustrated by the deteriorating situation in Boğaziçi University since the appointment in 2021 of its rector by a decision of the President; considers this extension of the trustee model to academic institutions -which has produced a clear negative impact on the academic life and performance of the institution- as a further depart from EU standards on academic freedom, mirroring the government's attempts to tighten control on any space of possible dissent; calls on the Turkish authorities to ensure democratic governance and autonomy in the universities and to put an end to the crackdown on the students through restrictions on the freedom of association and expression or on their rights to participate fully and freely in academic life (AM 342);

Falling, if adopted: 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 358 and 355

Covering: AM 346 (Rapporteur); AM 347 (Azmani et al.); AM 348 (Wiseler-Lima); AM 349 (Prebilič); AM 351 (Tynkkynen), AM 358 (Montero & Georgiou)

14. Remains deeply concerned about the situation of women's rights, and particularly about the high level of gender-based violence and the high incidence of femicide in Türkiye; urges the Turkish authorities to improve the legislative framework and its implementation, including by fully applying Protection Law no. 6284, in order to effectively tackle all forms of violence against women and the practice of so-called 'honour killings', provide stronger protection mechanisms and end the persistent policy of impunity by holding abusers to account; regrets that despite having declared 2025 as the "Year of the Family", the Turkish government has opted for a highly ideological and regressive approach that has targeted gender equality as a threat, further reducing the visibility of women in public space, and often treating violence against women and girls as a private family matter, which contributes to impunity; reiterates its strong condemnation of Türkiye's withdrawal, by presidential decree, from the Istanbul Convention and reiterates its call to reverse this decision and re-ratify it; is concerned by the fact that civil society organisations dealing with women's rights continue to face growing pressure, including by means of systematic administrative harassment and judicial prosecutions; urges the Turkish Government to address the persistent lack of gender equality in economic life, as Türkiye has one of the lowest female labour force participation rates among OECD countries, as well as the persistent low level of participation of women in decision-making and policymaking processes (AM 346, AM 347, AM 348, AM 349, AM 358);

Falling, if adopted: 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 304, 337, 353, 369, 371, 372, 373, 374, 377, 587, 591, 602, 619, 637, 639, 679, 740, 753 and 759

Covering: AM 301 (Azmani et al.), AM 337 (Azmani et al.) AM 353 (Azmani et al.); AM 359 (Rapporteur); AM 361 (Azmani et al.); AM 362 (Georgiou); AM 363 (Prebilič) AM 369 (Rapporteur); AM 371 (Georgiou); AM 372 (Gomart), AM 374 (Prebilič); AM 377 (Rapporteur); AM 637 (Azmani et al.)

15. Continues to condemn the ongoing violations and lack of protection of the fundamental rights of LGBTI+ persons in Türkiye, including arbitrary detentions, (AM 362) persistent incidence of hate speech, hate crimes, physical attacks and discriminatory rhetoric, as well as continued media stereotyping and stigmatisation based on sexual orientation and gender identity; deplores the fact that, instead of tackling this continued discrimination, the Turkish authorities have even intensified their repression by using the ‘Year of the Family’ initiative as a platform to specifically target the LGBTI+ community and their rights; is deeply worried about the several draft law proposals leaked throughout the last year, which included for the first time in the history of the Turkish Republic the criminalization of any expression of LGBTI+ identities and consensual same-sex sexual activity; calls on the Turkish authorities to refrain from any reform of the Turkish Penal Code that would contravene Türkiye’s international obligations, including those under the European Convention on Human Rights; deeply regrets that the Turkish government continued to ban in 2025 the Kuir fest and Pride March in Istanbul and other locations, as well as many other activities against homophobia while at the same time granting official permissions for anti-LGBTI+ rallies and demonstrations that promote exclusion and discrimination; deplores the judicial closure of the İzmir-based Genç LGBTI+ Association -amid heightened harassment of civil society organizations working on LGBTI+ issues-, based on charges of “obscenity” that are increasingly being used to target activists and artists, including Turkish pop singer Mabel Matiz; welcomes the Ankara court’s decision on 23 February 2026 to acquit human rights defender and LGBTI+ activist Enes Hocaoğulları of all charges; regrets the unjustified prosecution he has suffered, including 35 days of pre-trial detention for exercising his freedom of speech at a Council of Europe conference in March 2025 (AM 359, AM 361, AM 371, AM 363);
- 15a. Reiterates its call on the HR/VP, in view of the severe democratic backsliding described above, to consider restrictive measures under the EU Global Human Rights Sanctions Regime -including the freezing of assets in the EU- against Turkish officials responsible for serious and deliberate violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms, including those officials assuming the role of trustee and those appointing them, or those who are key actors in the State’s repressive machinery, such as now former Istanbul Chief Public Prosecutor Akın Gürlek; (AM 301, AM 369) is appalled by his recent promotion to the responsibility of Minister of Justice, which indicates that throughout his career he has always been a political actor following a political agenda; expresses strong solidarity with Turkish civil society, human rights, women’s and LGBTI+ organisations, youth initiatives, professional chambers, bar associations and trade unions; reiterates its view that EU financial and technical assistance should remain focused on these groups and be increased (AM 369);
- 15b. Condemns reported cases of transnational repression targeting Turkish nationals abroad, including intimidation, forced returns and misuse of international cooperation mechanisms; (AM 337, AM 637) condemns Türkiye's past activities that have undermined European social cohesion, security, and democratic processes, including interference in Member States' internal affairs through diaspora communities; (AM 637) remains worried that the racist extremist movement Ülkü Ocakları, also known as the Grey Wolves, which is closely linked to the ruling coalition Nationalist Movement Party (MHP), is spreading not only in Turkey but also in EU Member States; calls for the EU and its Member States to examine the possibility of banning their associations in EU countries; Condemns the Turkish authorities' policy of political, media and logistical support for Muslim Brotherhood-affiliated movements; calls on Türkiye to end all forms of support for these organisations; (AM 372)

- 15c. Expresses its deep concern about the lack of improvement in the dire situation in Turkish prisons owing to severe overcrowding and poor living conditions, with reports, including by the Council of Europe, of torture and ill-treatment being widespread, and access to basic needs such as hygiene and healthcare, and information being severely limited; (AM 377) notes reports of pregnant women being held in pre-trial detention, including cases of childbirth in custody; urges Türkiye to prioritise non-custodial measures for pregnant women and ensure full implementation of the UN Bangkok Rules on women prisoners (AM 353); is particularly worried by the conditions of imprisonment of minors, elderly and seriously ill prisoners, reportedly not compatible with the standards established by the Council of Europe's Committee for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment; takes notes of the recent legal reforms on the prison execution law which have paved the way for the early or conditional release of thousands of prisoners; calls on Turkish authorities to avoid any discriminatory implementation of these reforms based on political grounds and to prioritize the release of vulnerable inmates, including the elderly, the ill, persons with disabilities, and mothers with children; calls on Turkish authorities to reform its prison policy, (AM 374), to address the insufficient legal guarantees for the prevention of torture and ill-treatment and to improve the follow-up to cases denouncing instances of torture, maltreatment and abuse; is worried by the reports of local human rights organizations warning of a renewed rise in enforced disappearances since 2016 (AM 377);*

- 16. Commends the Turkish authorities and political parties for their efforts within the context of the ongoing 'Terror-free Türkiye' initiative, which has paved the way for notable breakthroughs such as the announced dissolution of the terrorist organization Kurdistan Workers' Party (PKK) (AM 380); regrets, nevertheless, the lack of timely and decisive action on the part of the Turkish Government, whose stalling attitude towards the next steps in the process have rendered it more fragile and vulnerable to external developments, while given space for further polarization (AM 380, AM 381); underlines, the need to prevent the broad application of anti-terrorism legislation from* being used to restrict legitimate political activity, peaceful dissent, civil society work and independent media (AM 382); deplores that the initiative is accompanied by a remaining environment of repression and curtailment of democratic local governments (AM 381); regrets the continued political repression, judicial harassment, and restrictions on cultural and linguistic rights faced by Kurdish citizens, which undermine democratic principles and social cohesion; (AM 387); takes note of the final report by the Commission for National Solidarity, Brotherhood and Democracy established within the GNAT; expresses its hope that the process will continue advancing, with a prominent role for the Turkish Parliament, to the point of providing a peaceful and sustainable solution of the Kurdish issue in its political, social, democratic and security-related aspects and (AM 380) to implement legislative reforms for Kurdish rights (AM 388), bringing about reconciliation between the different groups in Turkish society; highlights that this process should be an opportunity to address longstanding human rights concerns and reinforce democratic institutions; encourages all stakeholders, particularly the Turkish Government, to make full use of this process to advance reforms and strengthen human rights protections, by bringing counterterrorism (AM 382) -which remains an important field of cooperation with the EU- (AM 383) and other legislation and its implementation in line with EU and CoE human rights standards, leaving behind the security driven approach that has prevailed during the last decade; considers as contradictory and worrying signs recent developments such as the continuation of the trustee system or the new convictions of Selahattin Demirtaş, of his lawyer Ramazan Demir and of Istanbul's Esenyurt district mayor Ahmet Özer, who has been sentenced to over 6 years of prison on charges of “membership in a terrorist organization” for his role on an informal political alliance between his party the CHP and DEM party in the 2024 local elections (AM 380);

16a Calls on the Turkish authorities to establish an institutional framework as an integral part of any lasting peace process, addressing enforced disappearances, forced displacement and other grave human rights violations stemming from decades of conflict; urges the establishment of pluralistic monitoring mechanisms and the meaningful inclusion of human rights organisations and civil society actors, including in the implementation of the Commission for National Solidarity, Brotherhood, and Democracy's recommendations; (AM 386)

16c. Acknowledges that Türkiye provides generally adequate legal guarantees for freedom of religion or belief and that freedom of worship is generally respected in the country; urges Turkish authorities to address the remaining shortcomings with regard to the protection of the rights of ethnic and religious minorities, in particular as regards their legal personality, insufficient protection and promotion of minority languages, limited access to schooling support and clergy training, restricted access to media and public advertising in minority languages, as well as persistent complications in the enjoyment of property rights; (AM 319, 332, 344); calls for Türkiye to implement the Venice Commission recommendations, Council of Europe resolutions and all relevant ECtHR rulings in this regard, (AM 384) including on the Greek Orthodox population of the islands of Gökçeada (Imbros) and Bozcaada (Tenedos); (AM 352, 367, 391, 464, 470) notes with concern that representatives of different confessions, including non-Muslim and Alevi communities, continue to face bureaucratic obstacles when attempting to register places of worship; reiterates its call on Türkiye to respect the importance of the Ecumenical Patriarchate for Orthodox Christians all over the world, to recognise its legal personality and the public use of the ecclesiastical title of the Ecumenical Patriarch, in accordance with the relevant Venice Commission's recommendation; (AM 378 393, 712) calls on Türkiye to fully respect and protect the outstanding universal value of Hagia Sophia and the Chora museum, which are inscribed on UNESCO's World Heritage List; notes with concern that Türkiye has still not implemented two decisions of the UNESCO World Heritage Committee of 2021 and 2023 regarding its obligations to undertake special measures to protect these monuments; deplores the lack of protection of Panagia Soumela Monastery which has been put forward for inclusion to the UNESCO World Heritage Monuments list; expresses its serious concerns for the acts of vandalism and the destruction of minority places of worship; (AM 352, 379, 393) strongly condemns continued hate attacks against Alevi, Christian and Jewish minorities; (AM 314) calls on the Turkish authorities to effectively investigate and prosecute people responsible for any hate crimes, including hate speech, and all forms of discrimination committed against minorities (AM 314, 384) and to ensure that media regulators apply standards against incitement and hate speech, including against religious communities, notably the Alevi, Christian and Jewish communities; welcomes the envisaged reopening of the Halki Seminary, which has been closed since 1971, as an important positive step in the recognition of religious and minority rights; deplores the application in recent years of administrative measures, such as the codes 'N-82' and 'G-87', on hundreds of foreign Christian pastors, missionaries and their family members designating them as national security threats without evidence, trial or effective means of appeal and which has resulted in their deportation from Türkiye or being denied re-entry to the country; (AM 370, 384) urges the Turkish Government to take all necessary steps to ensure full religious freedom and non-discrimination within the UN framework and according to

EU acquis and principles; (AM 318, 356, 352, 370) calls on Türkiye to refrain from any statements or actions that could be interpreted as interference in the internal affairs of EU Member States concerning the situation of the Muslim minority in Western Thrace in view of relevant ECtHR rulings; (AM 317, 320, 600)

Socio-economic and sustainability reforms

17. Welcomes the Turkish authorities' ongoing macroeconomic stabilisation and reform programme, and their commitment to reducing inflation while protecting growth, which has brought about reduced inflation [and improved confidence in the Turkish lira], as also evidenced by the recent IMF Article IV staff consultations in Türkiye; notes that, despite these efforts, the economic situation remains fragile and volatile, with the results of the unorthodox monetary policy still impacting the cost of living; notes that, as a tight monetary policy and prudent fiscal policy will be required to stay on this path, measures to protect the most vulnerable -particularly the pensioners- should be undertaken; (AM 397)
18. Notes that the continued erosion of the rule of law and legal certainty will inevitably have a negative (AM 403) impact on investor confidence and on the economy; stresses that sustainable economic development requires strong democratic institutions, the rule of law, legal certainty and respect for fundamental rights; (AM 399) highlights the vast financial impact that unlawful actions by the authorities can have, as illustrated by the arrest of the Mayor of Istanbul in March 2025, which triggered financial turmoil and large capital outflows, forcing the relevant authorities to take extraordinary measures to stem the fall of the lira, restore investor confidence, and preserve financial stability, at the cost of a substantial decrease of official reserves; is concerned by the extensive use of the extraordinary powers granted to the Savings Deposit Insurance Fund (TMSF) that has seized and appointed trustees to hundreds of private companies - including large conglomerates and media companies such as TELE1- making the TMSF one of the country's biggest corporate actors; notes that the outward migration of talented people of Türkiye due to the situation of the rule of law and fundamental freedoms can have an increased negative impact in the economic and social situation; (AM 401)
- 18a. Acknowledges the recent important discovery by the Turkish government of large reserves of rare earth elements (REEs) in Eskişehir province, which could position Türkiye as an important actor in a global strategic market; highlights the potential of this discovery in contributing to diversification and resilience in global REE supply chains as well as the major challenges it implies, including the access to advanced extraction and processing technologies and the need to ensure high standards of environmental protection and sustainable resource management; (AM 404)

19. Calls on Turkish authorities to implement Türkiye's international obligations in relation to the fight against corruption, in particular the UN Convention Against Corruption and the relevant Council of Europe conventions, and to ensure effective follow-up to the recommendations issued by GRECO, including by adopting the necessary legislation, which is one of the remaining benchmarks for the visa liberalisation; stresses the need to improve the integrity of public procurement processes, political party financing, the judiciary, the public administration, and the construction sector, which remain particularly vulnerable to corruption; deeply regrets that the recent high-level corruption cases launched by the authorities have been targeted exclusively on opposition-elected mayors and municipalities, further diminishing the trust in the effectiveness and real will of the authorities in fighting against corruption; urges the Turkish authorities to ensure impartiality and transparency in their anti-corruption efforts; calls on Turkish authorities to enhance the fight against counterfeiting and to restore property rights regime according to international standards; (AM 405)
- 19a. Welcomes the removal of Türkiye from the grey list of the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) in June 2024, following significant progress in improving its anti-money laundering regime and combating the financing of terrorism; calls for Türkiye to align more closely with the EU acquis and FATF recommendations to further strengthen its anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing (AML/CFT) framework, (AM 417) including on the traceability of transfers and the prevention of misuse of new payment and crypto-asset channels for illicit finance; (AM 418)
- 19b. Points out that a number of critical challenges concerning the labour market remain unaddressed, such as informal employment, the gender pay gap, and income inequality; continues to be worried about the low coverage of collective bargaining and the serious impediments to unionisation in the private sector; believes that more efforts are needed to enhance social dialogue mechanisms and address emerging occupational safety challenges; recalls that trade union freedom and social dialogue are crucial to the development and prosperity of a pluralistic society; calls on Turkish authorities to remove obstacles that limit the unionisation and collective bargaining rights by using social dialogue mechanisms effectively, and to recognise the right to strike for civil servants; (AM 409) deplores the repeated detention of trade unionists in Türkiye for merely exercising their duties; condemns, in this regard, the recent detention of

Mehmet Türkmen, chair of the textile sector union BİRTEK-SEN, on 15 March 2026, noting that he was also imprisoned for over a month in 2025; calls for his immediate release and for an end to the judicial harassment against him;

- 19c. Takes note of Türkiye's new 2025 Climate Law that went into effect in July 2025 and welcomes the inclusion of an Emissions Trading System, while some improvements, such as on certificate caps, need to be addressed; (AM 414) deplores that Türkiye's remains a very low performer in the field of climate mitigation and calls on Ankara to work on a credible legal emissions reduction framework; highlights that the plan by the Ministry of Energy and Natural resources to uphold subsidies for domestic coal generation and carbon-intensive electricity generation slows down the progress in the rollout of renewables; calls on the Turkish government, also in the light of its hosting of the 31st UN Climate Conference in 2026, to decide a coal phase-out pathway and pull forward its CO2 peak from 2038; (AM 410) calls on the EU and Turkish authorities to deepen and prioritise cooperation on the Green Deal, notably carbon pricing in the context of the Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), address implications for Turkish exporters, support industrial decarbonisation financing and grid modernisation as well as policies of just transition; (AM 416)
- 19d. Expresses concern over animal welfare in transports from and through the Republic of Türkiye; calls for compliance with international standards and prevention of overcrowding and heat stress; (AM 412) is concerned by the reported killing and mistreatment of stray dogs and cats; calls for a population control in line with international standards; (AM 415)

Regional cooperation and good neighbourly relations

20. Continues to commend Türkiye for hosting around 2.7 million refugees, including 2.3 million Syrians under temporary protection in January 2026; notes that, according to Frontex reporting in January 2025, irregular migration along the Türkiye–EU border declined by approximately one quarter in absolute numbers (AM 425); reiterates the importance of Türkiye's collaboration for the effective and orderly management of migration flows; further notes the fact that since 2011 the EU has contributed close to EUR 12,5 billion to assist Türkiye in supporting refugees and host communities; (AM 420, 429) supports the continuation of the EU funding to further sustain the healthcare, education, protection and integration of refugees in Türkiye (AM 420); calls on the EU and Member States to maintain and, where possible, scale up financial assistance for the humanitarian and protection space in Türkiye, increasing efforts around providing support to Turkish civil society organizations and refugee-led organizations and consortia; (AM 443)

20a. Expresses concern about the deterioration of the protection environment for Syrian refugees in Türkiye, including the suspension of health insurances, the closure of refugee camps without adequate alternatives, and the downscaling of international non-governmental organisation and UN services (AM 436) remains further concerned about the situation of minority groups, refugees and migrants who continued to face discrimination, violence and forced returns in 2025; (AM 357) highlights that the protection obligations of Türkiye regarding Syrian refugees must be upheld until the conditions for return are met ; (AM 440) calls on Turkish authorities to reinstate 'go-and-see' visits or equivalent mechanisms enabling informed return decisions; (AM 446) notes with concern that there are credible reports uncovering human rights violations at EU-funded removal centres in Türkiye and calls on the Commission to launch a transparent and independent review into the matter; (AM 420) calls on the Commission to ensure utmost transparency and accuracy in the allocation of funds and that EU-funded projects, particularly those related to removal centres and border control, comply with all relevant human rights standards; calls on Türkiye to ensure the full and non-discriminatory implementation of the EU-Turkey Statement of 2016 and the EU-Türkiye Readmission Agreement vis-à-vis all Member States; (AM 420, 683, 711) stresses that vulnerabilities of migrants must not be instrumentalised for political purposes against the European Union or its Member States; (AM 428) urges Türkiye to continue cooperating in good faith with all EU Member States in the field of migration, ensuring a clear signal is sent to human smugglers to deter further illegal flows; (AM 710)

Strongly reaffirms its view that the only solution to the Cyprus problem is a fair, comprehensive, viable and democratic settlement, within the agreed UN framework, on the basis of a bi-communal, bi-zonal federation with a single international legal personality, single sovereignty, single citizenship and political equality, as set out in the relevant UN Security Council resolutions, the agreed areas of convergence and the Framework of the UN Secretary General, as well as in accordance with international law and the principles and values on which the Union is founded; (AM 483, AM 492) calls, as a matter of urgency, for the resumption of negotiations on the reunification of Cyprus under the auspices of the UN Secretary-General as soon as possible, from the point at which they were interrupted in Crans-Montana in 2017; calls on Türkiye to abandon the unacceptable proposal for a two-state solution in Cyprus and to return to the agreed basis for a solution and the UN framework; (AM 462, 480, 492, 506, 534)

22a. Welcomes the steps taken by the UNSG towards a resumption of comprehensive settlement talks, including his appointment of a Personal Envoy on Cyprus; calls to rapidly appoint a new European Commission Special Envoy for Cyprus; welcomes the two informal meetings in a broader format under the auspices of the UNSG held in Geneva in March 2025 and New York in July 2025, as well as the meetings in Cyprus of President Nikos Christodoulides and leader of the Turkish Cypriot community Tufan Erhürman in December 2025 -in which a joint statement emphasized that “the real aim is the solution of the Cyprus problem with political equality as described in the UNSC Resolutions” and February 2026; (AM 462, 534) further welcomes the stance of both sides -following the fact that there is a new leader of the Turkish Cypriot community-, which has contributed to renewed hope for creating a conducive environment for the resumption of settlement negotiations; warmly welcomes the agreement on further confidence-building measures as a positive and relevant step and encourages their implementation;-strongly supports the continuation of the contacts between both sides under the auspices of the UN Secretary-General and the work of his Personal Envoy for Cyprus; calls on the EU and its Member states to firmly support the continuation of this dialogue and to stand ready to support, in any way needed, the potential success of this process; encourages all sides to use this momentum to move towards the resumption of negotiations and not to miss this window of opportunity; (AM 486, AM 493, AM 494, AM 504)

22b. Calls on Türkiye to respect the status of the buffer zone and the mandate of the UN Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (UNFICYP), to cease and reverse all unilateral actions and violations within and in the vicinity of the buffer zone, and to refrain from any further such actions and provocations, including harassment and intimidation of farmers; reiterates its call for cooperation among the Republic of Cyprus, Türkiye, the United Kingdom and the UN to implement concrete measures for a demilitarisation of the buffer zone, in order to reduce tensions and contribute to a conducive environment for the resumption of the UN-led negotiations; calls on Türkiye to withdraw from Strovilia and facilitate the full implementation of the Pyla Understanding; (AM 233, 392, 496, 585) further calls on Türkiye to withdraw its troops from Cyprus and refrain from any unilateral action which would entrench the permanent division of the island and from action altering the demographic balance; (AM 479, 482 486, 492, 506, 510, 512) strongly condemns Türkiye’s attempts to upgrade the status of the secessionist entity in occupied Cyprus, including via the Organisation of Turkic States and the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation and calls on all states to respect Cyprus’ sovereignty according to UNSC resolutions; (AM 498, 655); condemns the ongoing efforts by Türkiye to “open” and settle Varosha by people other than its inhabitants in violation on UN SC Resolutions; calls on Türkiye to reverse its illegal actions and to transfer the area of Varosha to its lawful inhabitants under the temporary administration of the UN as called for by UN Security Council resolutions 550(1984) and 789(1992); deplores any effort to turn Varosha into a dark- tourism attraction which sensationalizes tragedy insulting the dignity and rights of the lawful inhabitants; (AM 480, 676) condemns the continued usurpation, sale and illegal development of properties belonging to Greek Cypriots in the occupied areas; (AM 448, 522, 745) remains deeply concerned about the education and religious restrictions and impediments faced by the enclaved Greek Cypriots; (AM 521, 601, 727) calls on Türkiye to step up its cooperation with the Council of Europe and its relevant bodies and institutions, to address their key recommendations, to fully implement the European Convention of Human Rights with regard to respecting the freedom of religion and the freedom of opinion and expression, and the right to access and worship, including the right to conduct religious ceremonies and enjoy cultural heritage, and to stop the deliberate destruction of cultural and religious heritage; (AM 339,AM 368) commends the work of the bi-communal technical committee on cultural heritage in restoring many of the affected monuments; regrets Türkiye’s continuing refusal to comply with international civil aviation law and establish a channel of communication between air traffic control centres in Türkiye and the Republic of Cyprus, the absence of which entails real safety risks and dangers as identified by the European Aviation Safety Agency and the International Federation of Air Line Pilots’ Associations; (AM 517, 705) reiterates its call on Türkiye to fulfil its obligation of full, non-discriminatory implementation of the Additional Protocol to the Ankara Agreement in relation to all Member States, including the Republic of Cyprus, and to implement the obligations assumed towards the EU as per the Negotiating Framework of October 2005; (AM 520, 523, 707, 739)

22c. Reiterates its call on Türkiye to give the Turkish Cypriot community the necessary space to act in accordance with its role as a legitimate community of the island, which is a right guaranteed by the constitution of the Republic of Cyprus; reiterates its call on the Commission to step up its efforts to engage with the Turkish Cypriot community, with a view to facilitating the resolution of the Cyprus problem and recalling that its place is in the European Union; calls for all parties involved to demonstrate a more courageous approach to bringing the communities together; stresses the need for the EU body of law to be implemented across the entire island following a comprehensive resolution of the Cyprus problem; takes note of the annual report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights and the UN Secretary-General on Cyprus (AM 333) remains concerned by restrictions on freedom of expression and media freedom, including violence or threats of violence against Turkish Cypriot human rights activists and particularly journalists, who have criticized the influence of Türkiye such as the Turkish Cypriot journalist Şener Levent and Ali Kışmir, the President of the Turkish Cypriot Journalists' Union; (AM 330, 333); takes note of the significant work of the Committee on Missing Persons in Cyprus (CMP) and calls for improved access to occupied military zones by the Turkish army, access to its military archives and information as to the relocation of remains from former to subsequent burial sites; (AM 503, 509, 515, 516, 702)

24. Regrets the low alignment of Türkiye with the EU's common foreign and security policy (CFSP), which has decreased from 6 % in 2024 to a record low of 4 % in 2025; notes however that this indicator, based on mechanic statistics on the alignment to the statements by the HR/VP and Council decisions on sanctions, might not fully capture all levels of engagement and dialogue in the framework of foreign and security cooperation; welcomes, in this sense, the recently increased level of dialogue with the EU and the active participation and substantial contribution to EU crisis management missions and operations under the CSDP; takes note of the growing anti-Western position of the Turkish authorities; expresses concern about its possible implications for the EU's interests in the Western Balkans, the Black Sea region, the South Caucasus, the Mediterranean, and the Middle East; but (AM 546) believes that, in the current geopolitical landscape, it is important to explore the possibilities for the cooperation with Türkiye in the context of current and future EU policies in the field of security and defence; urges Turkish authorities, nevertheless, to urgently address the extremely low level of alignment in CFSP (AM 570) and to remove other key obstacles in ensuring the necessary trust among partners and allies, such as maintaining a casus belli against one EU Member state, questioning the sovereignty of others (AM 563) or keeping the Russian-made S-400 air defence system; (AM 562, AM 741) notes with concern that Türkiye has applied to be a member of BRICS+ while it currently holds a partnership status, and is considering the same for the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO); expresses serious concern about the fundamental incompatibility of Türkiye's potential full BRICS membership with the EU accession process; underlines that such engagement reflecting a non-liberal model of global and regional governance could complicate efforts for a more comprehensive EU-Türkiye partnership; (AM 419, 541, 615)

24 a. Recognizes, as regards Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine, Türkiye's efforts in having a facilitation and potential mediation role, as underpinned by hosting several direct talks between both sides in Istanbul (AM 572) as well as through the provision of military, diplomatic and humanitarian assistance to Ukraine (AM 435, 738) including defence equipment, which has contributed to Ukraine's defence efforts; (AM 738) acknowledges that Türkiye has traditionally maintained a position of not supporting sanctions adopted outside the UN framework; continues to regret, nevertheless, that Türkiye does not align with the EU's restrictive measures against Russia, but welcomes the measures it has taken to prevent the circumvention of sanctions via Turkish territory, such as to prevent the re-export of Common High Priority Items, delivering some results, and calls to align with the EU sanctions framework against Russia; urges Turkish authorities to increase their efforts to detect and prevent circumvention of restrictive measures, in particular on advanced technology items used for military purposes by Russia, to prevent the "false transit" of these items to Russia via Central Asia, to extend these measures to other economically critical goods, to reduce the use of energy resources originating from Russia, and to address the risks linked with Russia's 'Shadow Fleet' in terms of maritime and environmental safety; (AM 553, 566, 567, 572, 550, 579, 563, 565, 762) further expresses concern that Türkiye has not restricted the operations of Russian state-controlled media in the context of Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine; notes the widespread presence of pro-Russian narratives and Russia-linked disinformation in the Turkish information space, particularly on Ukraine, NATO and energy security; calls on Türkiye to strengthen efforts to counter foreign information manipulation and disinformation; (AM 578); notes with concern that, through the TurkStream and Blue Stream pipelines, Türkiye is Russia's major customer of natural gas, as well as a major source of oil and petroleum products; (AM 583) reiterates its concern about Türkiye's close cooperation with Russia on the development of large nuclear power plants, including Akkuyu Nuclear Power Plant, which is expected to become operational in 2026, and which is owned and will be operated by Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation Rosatom; urges the Turkish Government to join the Espoo Convention, which commits its parties to notifying neighbouring countries on major projects under consideration that are likely to have a significant adverse environmental impact across boundaries; (AM 552, 592, 597)

- 24b. Expresses concern over Türkiye's close diplomatic, economic and energy relations with the Islamic Republic of Iran, including regular high-level contacts, sustained trade relations and the continued import of Iranian gas; (AM 599) regrets the lack of Türkiye's alignment with the EU's reaction to the Iranian crackdown on protesters, including restrictive measures related to the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC); takes note of the recent judicial developments in the United States concerning Halk Bankası A.Ş. (Halkbank), including proceedings related to sanctions' evasion and money laundering schemes; (AM 408) calls on Türkiye to progressively align with the EU's Common Foreign and Security Policy positions and sanctions regime; (AM 603) notes with concern that the military operations against the Iranian regime will have implications for Türkiye, due to its geographic proximity, including through spill-over effects, in particular with regard to renewed migration pressures; underlines the importance of regional coordination and close cooperation with Türkiye and other international partners in this context; (AM 434)

- 24c. Welcomes Türkiye's long-standing position in favour of a two-state solution for the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, which aligns with the EU's position, and its active participation in the 'Global Coalition' for its implementation; welcomes Türkiye's contribution to mediation efforts in the Gaza ceasefire and with regard to the Gaza peace summit of October 2025 in Sharm El-Sheikh; deeply regrets, at the same time, the Turkish authorities' active support for the EU-listed terror group Hamas and its refusal to designate it as a terrorist organization which is not compatible with the EU's foreign and security policy; deplores the fact that Türkiye did not condemn the 7 October attack against Israel conducted by Hamas; (AM 595, 621) warns against Türkiye's engagement with regional actors associated with extremist agendas, noting that such ties could complicate EU-Türkiye relations and affect regional stability; (AM 594); calls on Türkiye to remain firmly anchored in the multilateral system, with the United Nations at its core, as the essential framework to advance a comprehensive, just and lasting solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict; (AM 586)
- 24d. Notes Türkiye's increased leverage over developments in Syria following the fall of the Assad regime, heavily engaging with the current Syrian Transitional Authorities including providing it with military training and advisory support; remains concerned about the continued presence of Turkish forces in the country and about the involvement of Turkish-backed armed groups in the latest episodes of violence in the north and north-east of Syria, including against groups that played a decisive role in the international fight against Daesh; (AM 535) condemns the establishment of long-term military infrastructure and administrative structures in occupied areas under Turkish control; (AM 441) calls on Türkiye to engage constructively with the Syrian authorities (AM 549), to respect Syria's sovereignty and territorial integrity (AM 584, 674) and to address its security concerns in full accordance with international law and ensuring that all Syrians, including Kurds, can enjoy security and fundamental rights, and to refrain from any interference in Syria's internal processes; condemns the attacks on the civilian population during the last episode of violence between the Syrian army and the Kurdish-led SDF, causing numerous deaths and the displacement of large numbers of civilians, as well as the lack of access to humanitarian aid; expresses its hope that the latest agreement between the Syrian transitional government and the SDF, which foresees the gradual integration of Kurdish forces and institutions into the state and the historic recognition of Kurdish cultural, linguistic and civil rights, will allow for the stability of the North East region of Syria, key for the success of an inclusive political transition in the country; (AM 542, AM 596); warns that any serious deterioration in regional security could promote a resurgence of Daesh (AM 441, 535, 539) stresses that any transfer to Türkiye, or via Türkiye, of adult Daesh fighters or suspects originating from detention facilities in Syria must remain subject to effective custody, monitoring and information-sharing arrangements, including in any cross-border transfers (AM 681); notes the significant investment required for the reconstruction of Syria's economy and acknowledges Türkiye's interest in contributing to these efforts; expresses its support for close and constructive cooperation between the EU and Türkiye in this regard; (AM 598)

24e. Reaffirms its support to the normalisation of relations between Armenia and Türkiye in the interests of reconciliation, good neighbourly relations, regional stability and security and socio-economic development, and welcomes the progress achieved so far, including the easing of certain visa procedures, the preparations for the upcoming opening of the border for third-country nationals and holders of diplomatic passports and the resumption of Turkish Airlines direct flights; encourages Türkiye to firmly advance in this process on its own merits without making it dependent on its relations with a third country; calls on both countries to continue to work towards better connectivity in order to facilitate the land connection between Europe and Asia, promote historical reconciliation, improved business climate, and stronger people-to-people contacts; (AM 537) supports the Commission's efforts in bringing forward an EU Cross-Regional Connectivity Agenda involving Türkiye, Armenia and Azerbaijan - including projects such as the Kars-Tbilisi-Baku railway line- with great potential in contributing to regional stability and economic and social development; (AM 590, 559, 604, 606, 612, 708) encourages Türkiye to support the peace process between Armenia and Azerbaijan and encourages Türkiye once again to acknowledge the Armenian genocide in order to pave the way for genuine reconciliation between the Turkish and Armenian peoples and to fully respect its obligations to protect Armenian cultural heritage; (AM 548, 593, 604, 616, 697)

Wider EU-Türkiye relations

25. Reiterates its firm conviction that, beyond the accession process, which is currently at a standstill because of non-compliance with the Copenhagen criteria, and (AM 623) lack of democratic reforms, Türkiye is a country of strategic relevance; stresses the importance of maintaining constructive dialogue and deepening cooperation in areas of mutual strategic interest including in relation to Cyprus and in a phased proportionate and reversible manner and in line with the EUCO Conclusions of April 2024 (AM 629); reaffirms that the EU continues to be committed to pursuing the best possible relations with Türkiye, based on dialogue, respect and mutual trust, in line with international law and good neighbourly relations; (AM 625, AM 656)

25a. Welcomes, in this view, the enhancing of EU-Türkiye relations beyond the accession process in areas of mutual interest in line with the recommendations of the Joint Communication on EU-Türkiye relations of 23 November 2023, in a phased proportionate and reversible manner; further welcomes the recent high-level dialogues on trade and economy, migration and security, climate, and science, research, technology and innovation; calls again for the resumption of all relevant HLDs and for the establishment of structured HLDs on sectoral cooperation if needed to address other common challenges; (AM 635)

26. Supports deepening the connectivity agenda with Türkiye in the fields of energy, transport, digital and people-to-people contacts, in accordance with EU and international law (AM 641, AM 642, AM 645), as an example of good pragmatic and mutually beneficial cooperation with the potential to foster peace and stability in the region; stresses the strategic importance of accelerating the completion of key infrastructure projects improving the connectivity between the EU and Türkiye in line with the extended Trans-European Networks, (AM 644) as well as the relevance of Türkiye for the development and functioning of transcontinental connectivity initiatives, including increasingly important alternative trade route between Europe and Asia (Middle Corridor) which could contribute significantly to strengthening the EU's supply chain resilience and economic cooperation and can play an important role in advancing the EU's broader strategic autonomy objectives (AM 704); urges the timely development of the Black Sea Ring Highway and railroad connections; welcomes Türkiye's readiness to invest in the construction of a Black Sea Highway connecting Türkiye, Bulgaria and Romania; (AM 644)

26a Calls on the Commission, following the successful experience with other candidate countries, to undertake the necessary arrangements in order to extend as soon as possible the programme 'Roam Like at Home' also to Türkiye; calls on the Commission to consider working towards the extension of the Single Euro Payments Area (SEPA) and other relevant programmes so as to enhance people-to-people contacts; welcomes the good progress in the reporting period on science and research cooperation, in particular linked to participation in Horizon Europe; (AM 643) supports Türkiye's participation in the EU Civil Protection Mechanism and calls on the deepening of EU-Turkey cooperation in the fields of civil protection and resilient infrastructure putting emphasis on the need to strengthen decentralised municipal capacity, civil society participation, better coordination and public communication (AM 651);

28. Notes with deep regret that no progress has been made by Türkiye towards meeting the required benchmarks for visa liberalisation; reiterates its willingness to start the visa liberalisation process as soon as the Turkish authorities fully fulfil the six clearly outstanding benchmarks in a non-discriminatory manner vis-à-vis all EU Member states while aligning with EU visa policy; regrets that Turkish citizens are facing problems with visa requests/applications to EU Member States owing to a marked increase in demand and fears of abuse of the system; recognises, however, the political commitment to improving access to visas and calls for intensified efforts on both sides to address the remaining technical and administrative barriers; calls on the EU Member States to increase the resources allocated to this matter; supports measures on visa facilitation, particularly with regard to business activities and Erasmus students; deeply regrets the constant attempts by the Turkish authorities to blame the EU for not making progress on this dossier, while not taking any necessary steps to comply with the remaining benchmarks; reminds Türkiye that the lack of tangible and cumulative progress on the pending conditions has a direct impact on business activities and Erasmus students; regrets the Turkish government's abusive use of service passports, the number of which is unknown, while not taking the necessary actions to advance towards a framework that could benefit the whole population; calls on the Turkish Government to address the remaining obstacles preventing the reopening of the visa liberalisation dialogue, and equally calls on the Council to do its share following such steps; takes note of the EU and Member states' decision to introduce a visa cascade framework on 15 July 2025;

28a. Welcomes the reengagement of the EIB in Türkiye and the Turkey Investment Platform (TIP) under the European Fund for Sustainable Development (EFSD+) which enables stronger investment support through guarantee programmes in the three overarching policy priorities, namely the Green Deal, global gateways as well as jobs and growth (AM 699) in accordance with the relevant conditions on the respect of EU values (AM 700); highlights the necessity to ensure that no Union programmes benefit entities in Türkiye that are not respecting fundamental Union values; (AM 700)

28b. Supports the decision taken by the EU component of the EU-Türkiye Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) to postpone its 82nd meeting scheduled to take place on 14-15 April 2025 in Ankara, in the aftermath of the detention and arrest of Istanbul Mayor Ekrem İmamoğlu and others; retains the view that parliamentary dialogue remains a crucial part of EU-Türkiye relations and expresses the hope that the work of the JPC will resume soon when conditions allow; regrets the Turkish authorities' decision not to invite the European Parliament, unlike the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe and the Parliamentary Assembly of the OSCE, to observe the last presidential and parliamentary elections in May 2023 due to allegations of unfair treatment; expresses its hope that this decision will be revised favourably in any upcoming election in the country; (AM 703)

The way forward for EU-Türkiye relations

29. Reiterates its view that the Turkish Government has neglected to take the necessary steps to address the existing fundamental democratic shortcomings within the country and therefore maintains that Türkiye's EU accession process cannot be resumed in the current circumstances, ~~despite~~ while recognizing (AM 720) the democratic and pro-European aspirations of a large part of Turkish society; takes note of (AM 713) recent calls by relevant Turkish opposition figures advocating renewed engagement and the reopening of accession talks; expresses appreciation for this innovative and bold approach; remains, however, sceptical about supporting it unless there is a clear signal from the Turkish Government of its willingness to recommit to the EU path through concrete and credible actions (AM 713, AM 718);
- 29a. Recalls that, as in the case of any other candidate, the accession process is contingent on full compliance with the Copenhagen criteria and on the normalisation of relations with all EU Member States; (AM 723) stresses that Türkiye's constructive engagement, including in relation to the Cyprus problem, remains key to advancing closer cooperation between the EU and Türkiye; (AM 725) considers, in this regard, that when advancing their declared EU aspirations, the Turkish authorities should place less emphasis on the country's capabilities in security and defence and instead address the grave democratic situation prevailing in the country (AM 723); notes that it is committed to advancing the accession process provided that the Turkish Government takes these necessary steps (AM 716)

Falling, if adopted: 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 238, 272, 657 and 742

Covering: AM 657 (Azmani et al.); AM 729 (Rapporteur); AM 730 (Maniatis & Mavrides); AM 732 (Azmani et al.); AM 742 (Rapporteur)

30. Continues to urge the Turkish Government ~~and~~ to engage constructively with (AM 730) the EU institutions and Member States to keep working, beyond the currently frozen accession process, on the basis of the relevant Council and European Council conclusions and the established conditionality, towards a closer, more dynamic and strategic partnership; insists on the need to begin a process of reflection on how this new constructive and progressive framework for EU-Türkiye relations (AM 729) grounded in respect for democratic principles, the rule of law and fundamental rights (AM 732) can encompass the interests of all parties involved (AM 729); stresses the need to strengthen the EU-Türkiye partnership by, for example, the modernization and enhancement of the current Association Agreement; (AM 657)

30a. Is of the opinion, nevertheless, that a continued backsliding in democracy and rule of law in the coming future will only make the country drift further away from the EU, eroding the trust that is also needed for the real enhancement of our cooperation and partnership in areas of mutual interest, such as trade, energy or security (AM 742);

COMP 31

Falling, if adopted: 747, 748, 750, 751, 749, 752, 743 and 746

Covering: AM 748 (Rapporteur), AM 750? (Tynkkynen), AM 751? (Geadı et al.)

31. Believes that it is in the interest of the EU to reassess in which ways Türkiye can remain anchored to the EU not only in standards but also in values and principles, and to design political initiatives according to that goal; (AM 748) urges all EU institutions and the Member States and the European Council (AM 750) to be vocal in addressing the persistent (AM 751) democratic backsliding and human rights violations (AM 750) in Türkiye as this is not incompatible with pursuing the best possible relations between the EU and the country; calls on the Commission and the EEAS to ensure that the agendas of high-level officials visiting the country include a plural representation of political and civil society stakeholders to obtain a more complete vision on the country; (AM 748)

COMP 32

Falling, if adopted: 754, 755, 756, 724 and 757

Covering: AM 722 (Prebilić); AM 754 (Rapporteur); AM 757 (Rapporteur)

32. Reiterates its utmost commitment to sustaining its support for Türkiye's independent civil society; calls on the Commission to uphold and increase its political and financial support to the vibrant and pro-democratic civil society in Türkiye, whose efforts can contribute to generating the political will necessary for deepening EU-Türkiye relations; is of the opinion that while incentives-based and transactional approaches work in many areas of the EU-Türkiye cooperation, they have failed to advance the democratization of the country; highlights, in this view, that the resumption of the accession process depends mainly on the unwavering political will of Türkiye's authorities and society to become a full-fledged democracy, which cannot be forced upon it by the EU; (AM 754)

32a. Reiterates its call to strengthen and deepen mutual knowledge and understanding between our societies, promoting cultural growth, socio-cultural exchanges and combating all manifestations of social, religious, ethnic or cultural prejudice; stresses, in this view, the importance of facilitating people to people exchange for EU-Türkiye relations, notably for the promotion of democracy, the rule of law and human rights; (AM 722) encourages Türkiye and the EU to promote shared values, particularly by supporting young people; (AM 757)

COMP 33

Falling, if adopted: 760 and 761

Covering: AM 760 (Rapporteur), AM 761 (Tynkkynen)

33. Instructs its President to forward this resolution to the President of the European Council, the Council and the Commission; asks that this resolution be translated into Turkish and forwarded to the President, Government and Parliament of the Republic of Türkiye. (AM 760, 761)

- A. whereas Türkiye remains a candidate for EU accession, and EU membership remains the repeatedly declared political goal of the Turkish Government, although the gap with the values (AM 72) as enshrined in the Article 2 of the TEU (AM 82), principles (AM 78), and some policies (AM 80, AM 96) of the EU is continuing to grow; whereas Turkey needs to credibly demonstrate its commitment to closer relations and alignment with the European Union (AM 72), to respect and uphold the Copenhagen criteria (AM 80) including the EU's foreign and security policy (AM 81), to normalise its relations with all EU Member States, and to pursue and maintain good neighbourly relations with the EU and all of its Member States (AM 80) in order to reinvigorate its European perspective; (AM 72); whereas Türkiye has repeatedly been asked to refrain from all actions which violate the sovereignty and sovereign rights of all EU Member States and which are in breach of international and EU law (AM 86, AM 91, AM 92)
- Aa. whereas EU accession negotiations have effectively been at a standstill since 2018, owing to the deterioration of the rule of law and democracy in Türkiye and in a context at that time of tense bilateral relations (AM 87);

Falling, if adopted: 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 104, 110, 111, 114, 115, 134 and 191

Covering: AM 100 (Rapporteur); AM 104 (Rapporteur); AM 110 (Rapporteur)

- B. whereas in its latest progress report of 2025, the Commission once again identified in Türkiye serious backsliding in the rule of law and a deteriorating human rights situation, and raised questions about adherence to basic democratic principles, vis-à-vis the previous reporting period in 2024 (AM 100);

B a. whereas the state of independence of the judiciary remains especially alarming, despite the 11 “Judicial Packages” enacted by the Turkish Government since 2019; whereas the constitutional order of the country is jeopardized as the authority of the Constitutional Court is undermined by lower-level courts refusing to implement its rulings; (AM 104)

B b. whereas double standards clearly exist before the law, as evidenced by the very different treatment of similar cases, particularly in political or high-profile judicial procedures or in cases related to charges on the account of insulting state officials; (AM 110)

C. whereas Türkiye has systematically instrumentalized criminal law and counterterrorism laws to crack down on elected officials, opposition politicians, and human rights defenders; (AM 125); whereas the recent period has been marked by a severe deterioration in democratic standards and processes both on the (AM 122) local as well as the national level democracy (AM 122) in Türkiye, as a result of judicial decisions and governmental pressure exerted on opposition mayors and municipalities; whereas a total of 28 mayors from opposition parties (18 from the CHP and 10 from the DEM) were arrested and removed from office; whereas in 11 cases, mayors were replaced with trustees appointed by the government (AM 118);

C a. whereas the democratically elected (AM 120) Mayor of Istanbul Ekrem İmamoğlu remains in prison since (AM 124) 19 March 2025 on trumped up charges, bearing the hallmarks of political pressure, in a blatant violation of basic principles in criminal law such as the principle of individual responsibility; whereas this is widely considered an attempt to politically eliminate the main opposition candidate for the next presidential elections (AM 124);

C b. whereas there are currently around 800 files submitted to the Grand National Assembly of Türkiye (GNAT) requesting the lifting of the parliamentary immunity of current MPs; whereas an overwhelming proportion of them affect MPs from opposition parties, mainly the DEM and CHP parties (AM 127);

D. whereas Türkiye is a member of the Council of Europe and is therefore legally (AM 130, AM 132) bound by the judgments of the ECtHR; whereas owing to its failure to apply landmark ECtHR rulings, Türkiye is currently facing historical infringement proceedings (AM 129, AM 130, AM 132); whereas Türkiye consistently ranks among the countries most frequently found in violation of the human rights and fundamental freedoms protected by the European Convention on Human Rights; whereas as of January 2026, Türkiye had the highest number of pending cases before the ECtHR, representing over 35% of the total process list of the court as of early 2025 (AM 123, 129);

D a. whereas Türkiye is classified as ‘not free’ by Freedom House and has experienced one of the worst declines in the level of freedom in the world in the past 11 years (AM 136, AM 138, AM 139); whereas the 2025 World Press Freedom Index indicates further deterioration and places Türkiye as the 159th out 180 countries, with the report underlining that authoritarianism is gaining ground in Türkiye, media pluralism is being called into question, and all possible means are used to undermine critics (AM 131, AM 135); whereas, according to Reporters Without Borders (RSF) and the BIA Media Monitoring Reports, between 20 and 29 journalists were jailed during 2025, three others were held under house arrest for months and dozens more were subjected to judicial control in ways that violated their freedom of movement; whereas in the same period a total of 58 journalists were either detained or forcibly brought in for questioning by the police; (AM 131)

D b. whereas Türkiye ranked 135th out of 146 countries in the 2025 Global Gender Gap Index, underscoring severe gender inequality and systemic failures in protecting women’s rights (AM 202); whereas according to We Will Stop Femicide Platform data, in 2025, there were 297 suspicious deaths of women and 294 femicides (AM 140, AM 141), while other sources reported figures as high as 420 (AM 126); whereas 2025 saw a record rise in suspicious deaths involving women in Türkiye (AM 126); whereas the lack of a comprehensive official data collection system on femicides remains a serious concern (AM 140, AM 141); whereas at the OECD level, Turkey stands out as one of the countries most affected by violence against women (AM 126);

D c. whereas according to local human rights organizations IHD and TIHV Türkiye’s prison population had reached a record 433,543 inmates as of December 2, marking a sevenfold increase over the past two decades, while another 460,921 people were subjected to judicial supervision; whereas these organizations also documented 1,412 sick prisoners, including 335 in serious condition; whereas Turkish prisons operate beyond their capacity, exacerbating problems such as overcrowding, inadequate living environments, and limited access to basic resources; whereas reports of human rights violations in prisons have increased; (AM 142)

D d. whereas according to Transparency International, Türkiye has scored 31/100 in its 2025 Corruption Perceptions Index, having fallen from 50/100 in 2013 to its lowest mark, and currently ranking 124 out of 180 countries; whereas more than nine years after the adoption of the Council of Europe's Group of States against Corruption (GRECO)'s Fourth Round Evaluation Report on Türkiye, only three out of 22 recommendations contained in the report have been implemented in full; (AM 143)

D e. whereas Türkiye is a diverse multiethnic society in a complicated tension-prone region; (AM 144)

E. whereas Türkiye is going through a political process entitled 'Terror-free Türkiye', with the aim of ending political violence and address (AM 148) the Kurdish issue through a political solution (AM 148);

I. whereas the EU-Türkiye trade relationship is particularly extensive, with highly integrated supply chains, standing at over EUR 210 billion in 2024(AM 193), with Türkiye being the EU's fifth largest trading partner and the EU being Türkiye's largest trading partner by far, as well as its primary source of foreign direct investment (AM 193);

I a. whereas Türkiye's economy has been affected by high inflation, currency instability and structural challenges, with direct implications for workers, households and social cohesion; whereas during the last two years the negative trend has been halted and corrected with sound macroeconomic policies, which however take time to take effect (AM 198);

I b. whereas Türkiye is the second largest country in terms of processed visa applications in the EU (AM 206);

I c. whereas Türkiye will host the 31st UN Climate Change conference in Antalya in November 2026 and should therefore demonstrate credible commitment to implement its CO2 reduction targets and increase the ambitions of its climate policy; (AM 200)

I d. whereas prominent figures in the opposition have recently openly advocated for a reengagement between the EU and Türkiye; whereas former HDP co-chair Selahattin Demirtaş has called for the resumption of the Turkish accession process with the idea that this, despite all difficulties and current shortcomings, would trigger action in the area of democratic reforms and could create leverage for all stakeholders; whereas CHP Chairperson Özgür Özel in a letter addressed to EU stakeholders has advocated for a more inclusive and strategic understanding of cooperation between the EU and Türkiye, reaffirming support for a full membership perspective, and stressing that the deepening of institutional and economic integration -including in the “Made in Europe” process- will serve as an important lever for the consolidation of democracy, human rights and the rule of law in Türkiye; whereas CHP presidential candidate and Istanbul mayor Ekrem İmamoğlu has also expressed in another letter the view that disengagement with Türkiye would weaken the EU's support for the democratic transformation in the country; whereas he has further called for a principled step-by-step rebuilding of relations including a steady engagement anchored in the Copenhagen criteria and the urgent initiation of the talks for the modernization of the customs union, as a means to keep Türkiye closely aligned with EU standards and reinforce transparency, competitiveness and the rule of law (AM 207);
